

Tax & Legal Counsel – Wealth Structuring

Generali Luxembourg is an insurance company dedicated to high net worth and ultra-high net worth individuals (HNWI / UHNWI). The company distributes its life and capitalization products through a network of privileged partners, private banks, family offices and financial advisors, mainly in Europe under the freedom to provide services regime (LPS).

Generali Luxembourg is part of the Generali Group, one of the largest international insurance and asset management groups. Founded in 1831, it is present in 50 countries and has a turnover of €81.5 billion in 2022. With nearly 82,000 employees and 69 million clients worldwide, the Group is one of the leaders in Europe and has a growing presence in Asia and Latin America. Generali's ambition is to be a partner to its clients throughout their lives, offering them innovative and bespoke solutions and relying on an unrivalled distribution network.

Your mission:

- Advice internal and external stakeholders with all tax related topics concerning the life insurance business;
- Provide assistance to the Wealth structuring department on the tax frameworks applicable in the various countries in which the insurance contracts of Generali are distributed;
- Providing legal support on the underwriting and management of life insurance and capitalization contracts taken out under the Freedom to Provide Services (analysis of beneficiary clauses, pledges, eligibility of legal entities, transfer of contracts, etc.);
- Assisting and being the back-up of the Legal Affairs department on all legal matters such as the partners' agreements (custodian banks, insurance intermediaries, financial managers) and other legal related topics.

Your Profile:

- University degree and/or other relevant professional qualification (preferably Law and/or Business Administration) or significant knowledge of legal and tax matters acquired through deep experience in a tax and legal department;
- Knowledge of the cross-border insurance regulatory framework;
- Excellent written and spoken French. Italian is a real asset. Good command of English;
- Highly organizational and administrative skills, rigorous and team player who can work independently;
- Strong organizational, analytical and prioritization skills;
- Proactive, eager to learn with excellent interpersonal and communication skills;
- You have a perfect command of MS Office (Word, Excel, PowerPoint, Outlook).

We offer:

- Initial and on-going trainings and career development;
- Attractive salary and benefits depending on candidate seniority;
- An entrepreneurial working environment giving priority to team work;
- A challenging role within a renowned organization;
- A multicultural environment where we promote diversity, talent & ideas;
- The ability to work and interact with a wide variety of specialists.

Are you interested in this offer?

It's easy to apply! Send your CV and covering letter by email to the following address next: hr@generali.lu

This offer is to be filled as soon as possible.

In view of the large number of applications to be processed whose criteria do not meet the requirements of the advertisement, the attention of the applicant is drawn to the fact that in the absence of a response from the HR department, the application will not be considered as having been selected.

Before sending your CV, we invite you to read the information notice relating to the processing of your personal data during the candidate selection and recruitment procedure by Generali Luxembourg. You will also find it in the "Join us" section of our website: <https://www.generali.lu>.